

Birds

Richard Gibbons.
Prothonotary Warbler

Richard Gibbons.
Swainson's Warbler

John Hartgerink.
White-eyed Vireo

Ken Thomas.
Pine Warbler

John Hartgerink.
Northern Cardinal

John Hartgerink.
Tufted Titmouse

John Hartgerink
Barred Owl

John Hartgerink
Red-shouldered Hawk

Great Blue Heron

Great Egret

Frenchtown Road Conservation Area

- 496 acres of natural forest.
- Over 100 species of birds visit the park regularly or during migration.
- 6 different micro habitats.
- Over 50 species of reptiles and amphibians documented to date.
- 2.4 miles of Amite River shoreline and 1.6 miles of Comite River shoreline.
- Currently 3.5 miles of trails wind through the heart of the park with more to come.

BREC has designated this park a Wilderness Area. This means we are trying to bring it back to it's natural state by minimizing the impact of human activity. We invite you to explore, learn and appreciate the scenery and wildlife found at Frenchtown Road Conservation Area. You can help us preserve this park by following the Park's Rules and using Respectful and Responsible outdoor ethics.

Reptiles and Amphibians

John Hartgerink
Broad-banded Water Snake

John Hartgerink
North American Racer

John Hartgerink
Eastern Box Turtle

John Hartgerink
Five-lined Skink

Amanda Nichols
Northern Cricket Frog

John Hartgerink
Cottonmouth

John Hartgerink
Common Musk Turtle

John Hartgerink
Green Anole

Amanda Nichols
Fowler's Toad

USFWS
Marbled Salamander

Wildflowers

Goldenrod

Common Morning Glory

Wind-stem Crownbeard

White Bushy Aster

Smartweed

Narrow-leaved Sunflower

Trumpet Vine

Purple Mist Flower

Spider Lilly

Lady's Tresses

Trees and Shrubs

Tupelo Gum
Photo credit: John Hartgerink

Bald Cypress
Photo credit: thesurvided99

White Oak
Photo credit: dsrjsr

Water Oak
Photo credit: USDA

American Beech
Photo credit: MONGO

American Hornbeam
Photo credit: Fepup

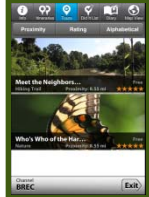

Southern Magnolia
Photo credit: Pmsyzyz

American sycamore
Photo credit: Lambique

Want to Take a Guided Hike of Frenchtown Conservation Area without a Guide?

Check out our Self-guided Hikes through a FREE Mobile App! Just download the MyTourGuide App through the App store, go to BREC's channel and check out our tours. It's like having a Naturalist in your pocket!

- Listen to facts about the parks ecology.
- Use guides to identify species and explore the trails.
- Compete with other hikers to see who is more knowledgeable about the park.
- Take pictures of yourself and friends with AR photos.
- Keep a diary of your trail thoughts and share them with the world.

Frenchtown Road Conservation Area

A Park with Ecological Diversity

OPEN SUNRISE – SUNSET DAILY
NO FACILITIES

17819 Frenchtown Road
Central, LA 70739
225-388-3029 www.brec.org